THE ETHICS OF THE COSMOS

DECLARATION

The founders and members of the international social movement The Ethics of the Cosmos are committed to promote peaceful and cooperative existence in Outer Space. We are absolutely convinced that the old guiding principle of human society, “Divide and Conquer”, which sought only the satisfaction of personal and group self-interests and was based on overarching conflict, aggression, and hostility is hopelessly outdated and does not conform in any way to basic human nature and the needs of Humanity for life and love on a vital and healthy planet Earth.

Although frequently not understood or accepted, in reality Humanity itself is, in fact, a single, interdependent organism similar to an individual human being. An individual is functioning optimally and living most joyfully and happily when the body is healthy and all bodily systems are functioning in harmony with each other, and the individual is in the caring embrace of a friendly and healthy environment.

If one is ill, if, for example, a person’s organs do not function harmoniously, and that person also lives in a destructive, contentious environment, then he or she is not living fully but is merely eking out a miserable existence assaulted by constant ill health. As a result, mainly due to improper functioning because one’s organs and systems are unable to live together harmoniously, this person may unnecessarily suffer and die prematurely.

Unfortunately, exactly the same can be said about human civilization itself. And, at this crucial time, because we have previously found it impossible to live together harmoniously, we are forced to recognize the great possibility that coming globalization may only make this destructive process even worse. Hostility and constant, destructive unhealthy competition divides and destroys communities of people from within. Now, because of the emergence of enhanced technologies intended for purposes of war and conflict, Humanity has been plunged into a comprehensive and destructive civilizational crisis.

The self-serving, destructive attitude by many consumers toward this planet often promotes negative, rejecting reactions by all living systems, by all sacred human, animal, and plant life, even impacting the very water and air on Earth, our Home Planet. Thus, we believe that our planet itself has begun to perceive that we humans, when we act as malicious parasites, must be eliminated by any possible means. And, we must not forget, the Earth has more than sufficient resources to accomplish our elimination, as demonstrated daily by the rapid growth of worldwide, “natural” disasters.

Given its current state of consciousness, Humanity will never be able to fulfill its long-standing dream of going beyond Earth into deep Space in peace. The Intelligent Powers of the Universe have warned Humanity multiple times that we humans are on the brink of self-destruction. Historically, and even today, some humans are ready to murder any form of sacred life, to commit mass murders, even to go to war causing universal suffering and pain, raping and destroying our life-supporting environment, even as we plan to deploy and place horrific space-based weapons in the Cosmos.

Thus, because we have created untold harm that is destructive to our civilization and our planet, we can and we must face what we have done and fix it. And, if we and our leaders have the courage, and it will take great courage, we must immediately end endless wars and the planned placement of weapons above all our heads.

The main goal of our social movement, The Ethics of the Cosmos, is to assist all Humankind in a new commitment to become a moral, peaceful, ethical, global civilization, moving toward fulfilling our Cosmic purpose as the only force on Earth, in the Solar System, and in the Galaxy itself that can accomplish what we humans must do.

The main objectives of The Ethics of the Cosmos are:

1. To promote the signing by all countries of the world (and, above all, by the Space Powers) of the Treaty on the Prevention of the Placement of Weapons in Outer Space as binding world law, that prohibits the deployment into outer space and the placement in outer space of any type of weapons.
2. To create a global social movement for peaceful Space exploration and development.
3. To cooperate with all organizations whose goal is peaceful Space exploration and development.
4. To form an evolutionary model for the development of a more conscious human civilization, its promotion and its implementation in all spheres of human existence on Earth and in Space.
5. To develop and promote norms for the implementation of Space activities, taking into account the physical, environmental, informational, moral, ethical, and spiritual criteria for cooperation in Space.
6. To promote universal public recognition that the UFO phenomenon is one example of a peaceful manifestation of the Intelligent Powers of the Cosmos that is absolutely not threatening and must be taken into account in every aspect of our civilization.
7. To interact with the media, conducting events and activities to promote the goals, objectives, and results of the work of The Ethics of the Cosmos, including organization of a campaign to introduce appropriate programs to educate leaders and the public, including children and youth.
